Courses

FIN 300. International Special Topics in Finance. 3 Credits.
This course provides a comprehensive overview of the Chinese economy and its role in the world economy, including topics such as China's economic reform, its interaction with the world through trade, investment and financial system, etc. This course will incorporate company visits and exploration of cultural sites in China.
Typically offered in Summer.
Repeatable for Credit.

FIN 310. Behavioral Finance. 3 Credits.
Over the past several decades, the field of finance has developed a successful paradigm based on the notions that investors and managers were generally rational and the prices of securities were generally "efficient." In recent years, however, anecdotal evidence as well as theoretical and empirical research has shown this paradigm to be insufficient to describe various features of actual financial markets. In this course we will use psychology and more realistic settings to guide and develop alternative theories of financial market. We will examine how the insights of behavioral finance complement the traditional paradigm and shed light on investors' trading patterns, the behavior of asset prices, corporate finance, and various Wall Street institutions and practices.
Pre / Co requisites: FIN 310 requires prerequisites of ECO 111 or ECO 112, and ECO 251 or MAT 121 and minimum 2.5 CUM GPA.
Distance education offering may be available.
Typically offered in Fall, Spring & Summer.
