

SPK: PUBLIC SPEAKING

College of Arts and Humanities

Courses

SPK 199. Transfer Credits. 1-10 Credits.

Transfer Credits.

Repeatable for Credit.

SPK 208. Public Speaking. 3 Credits.

This course is designed to introduce the student to both the theory and the practice of public speaking in a variety of communication contexts. Students will develop the skills necessary to use communication as a problem-solving tool in the community. Special emphasis is placed on the student's performance as a sender and receiver of messages directed at social action.

Gen Ed Attribute: Speaking Emphasis.

Distance education offering may be available.

Typically offered in Fall, Spring, Summer, Winter.

SPK 230. Business and Professional Speech Communication. 3 Credits.

Practice in effective speaking and listening. Interpersonal communication in the business and professional setting, including reports, sales, and pitch presentations, policy speeches, group dynamics, and speaking.

Gen Ed Attribute: Speaking Emphasis.

Typically offered in Fall, Spring, Summer, Winter.