one of the 14 universities in the State System of Higher Education on July 1, 1983. Along with its new name - West Chester University of Pennsylvania of the State System of Higher Education - the institution acquired a new system of governance and the opportunity to expand its degree programs.

Location of the University

West Chester University is located in West Chester, Pennsylvania, a town that has been the seat of government in Chester County since 1786. Nestled in the heart of Pennsylvania’s Brandywine Valley, West Chester is a picturesque community that offers small-town charm with cosmopolitan flair. The Philadelphia Inquirer called it "one of the world’s most perfect small towns."

West Chester was settled in the early 18th century, principally by members of the Society of Friends. In the heart of town is its courthouse, a classical revival building designed in the 1840s by Thomas U. Walter, one of the architects for the Capitol in Washington, D.C. Philadelphia is 25 miles to the east and Wilmington 17 miles to the south, putting the museums, theaters, and other cultural and historical resources of both cities in easy reach. Valley Forge, the Brandywine Battlefield, Longwood Gardens and other world-class attractions are nearby. New York and Washington are easily accessible by car or train.

How to Reach West Chester

The Borough of West Chester can be accessed by car and public transportation. Route 3, the West Chester Pike, leads directly into town from Center City Philadelphia. From the Pennsylvania Turnpike, motorists traveling west should take Route 202 south from the Valley Forge Interchange or the E-Z Pass-only exit (#320), while those traveling east can arrive via Route 100 south from the Downingtown Interchange. From the south, Route 202 from Wilmington and Routes 100 and 52 from U.S. Route 1 all lead to West Chester.

Public transportation is available from Philadelphia and other nearby communities.

Information on public transportation and carpooling is available in Sykes Student Union, 610-436-2984.

The Frederick Douglass Institute
The Frederick Douglass Institute (FDI) at West Chester University is an academic program for advancing multicultural studies across the curriculum and for deepening the intellectual heritage of Frederick Douglass, the former slave, distinguished orator, journalist, author, and statesman. Douglass, who was a frequent visitor to the West Chester area, gave his last public lecture on West Chester’s campus on February 1, 1895; an official historical marker has been placed to denote that location. Thirty years earlier, in October 1865, at the inauguration of a Baltimore, Maryland, institute named for him, Douglass said that the mission was “to be a dispenser of knowledge, a radiator of light. In a word, we dedicate this institution to virtue, temperance, truth, liberty, and justice.”

At West Chester University, the Douglass Institute is primarily involved in five academic areas:

1. Conducting research on multiculturalism and Frederick Douglass
2. Sponsoring distinguished exhibits and lectures
3. Establishing opportunities for advanced study for public, private, and college-level teachers
4. Collaborating with historical societies and cultural agencies, and pre-college schools
5. Promoting literacy programs and enhancing the academic preparations of students.

Through the leadership of WCU, there are Frederick Douglass Institutes at all the campuses of the Pennsylvania State University System.

The activities of the institute take place on and off campus. With undergraduate and graduate students, and West Chester faculty, the institute sponsors seminars and forums on selected topics. FDI’s biannual series, “Lunch (En)Counters” takes its name from the famed lunch-counter protests of the Civil Rights era; these events aim to provide campus forums for discussing topical issues related to race and civil rights, as well as interdisciplinary and global subjects. The Anna Murray Douglass Circle is another lecture series offering a platform for today’s leading intellectuals. Annually in October, the Frederick Douglass Institute hosts the Dr. Clifford E DeBaptiste/Frederick Douglass Institute Lecture Series. The lecture is open to the public free of charge and made possible through the generous gift of Dr. Clifford DeBaptiste, the first African American mayor of West Chester Borough and a recognized champion of education.

For further information, call the Frederick Douglass Institute at 610-436-2766, or e-mail FDouglass@wcupa.edu. The fax number is 610-436-2769.

The Frederick Douglass Society
The Society of West Chester University (http://www.wcupa.edu/fds/) (formerly known as The Frederick Douglass Society) is a diverse group of predominantly Black and Brown faculty, staff, students, and administrators of West Chester University, who seek to elevate the social consciousness of the campus, and community at large. The organization facilitates the work and service needed to promote an ideal society that encompasses social justice, genuine equity, real reform, the arts, and holistic education. In the spirit of Frederick Douglass’ work as an abolitionist, social justice educator, and civil rights leader, The Society and West Chester University are committed to inclusive excellence by promoting empowerment through education, social justice through civic engagement, and the advancement of human rights through thoughtful public dialogue. Society members provide leadership, support, and guidance to the West Chester University community regarding multicultural education, empowerment, and equality. The organization also raises money annually for scholarship... funds to increase the economic options available to the student body. The Society seeks, by the example of Douglass, to promote an intellectual standard that is not only grounded in excellence but profoundly rooted in the public mission of higher education.

Institute for Women
The Institute for Women (http://www.wcupa.edu/instituteForWomen/) was initially designated to serve as the parent organization to represent the interests of women on campus. The institute is an independent body headed by the director of the Center for Women and Gender Equity (http://www.wcupa.edu/womensCenter/). Along with the Commission on the Status of Women and the Women's and Gender Studies program, the Institute for Women engages in campus activities for the benefit of women students, faculty, and staff.

The institute sponsors activities to enhance the success of women and other historically marginalized groups at the University including the Graduate Grant, Endowed Book Funds, and support for campus programs. The institute prepares periodic reports on the status of women at the University and has also secured Charlotte W. Newcombe Scholarship Grants for mature or second-career women for more than 25 years. For more information contact Center for Women & Gender Equity, at 610-436-2122 or cwge@wcupa.edu.

Institute of Race and Ethnic Studies
The Institute of Race and Ethnic Studies (formerly named the Ethnic Studies Institute), established in 1974, is designed to organize, support, and encourage interdisciplinary scholarly research, teaching, and service/outreach programs and activities that are directed toward exploring and understanding the social and historical experience of racial and ethnic groups in the United States. The Institute works with groups and constituencies concentrating on racial, ethnic, and cultural understanding, and fostering the development of a diverse university environment. The Institute encourages and supports faculty and students in their research on race and ethnic studies. The Institute also aims to cultivate relationships with local groups whenever possible.

The Institute of Race and Ethnic Studies offers an interdisciplinary minor in Ethnic Studies which provides students with a critical understanding of the social and historical experiences of racial and ethnic groups in the U.S. and the impact of social and cultural systems and structures on these groups. The minor may lead to a multi-ethnic emphasis or to a concentration in one of the following areas: African American Studies, Asian American Studies, Jewish American Studies, Latina/o Studies, and Native American Studies. The Institute is responsible for curriculum development and assessment of the minor and student academic advising.

For more information about The Institute of Race and Ethnic Studies or the minor, visit: http://www.wcupa.edu/EthnicStudies/, or email: ethnicstudies@wcupa.edu, or contact Dr. Miguel Ceballos, Director, at mceballos@wcupa.edu (610-436-2308) or Dr. Carla Lee Verderame, Assistant Director, at cvraderame@wcupa.edu (610-436-0013).

Poetry Center
The West Chester University Poetry Center (http://www.wcupa.edu/poetry/) hosts the annual West Chester University Poetry and Creative Arts Festival (the nation’s premier all-poetry writing conference), sponsors the University’s Poet-in-Residence program, and presents poetry readings throughout the year. The Center also oversees national poetry awards under the auspices of the Iris N. Spencer Poetry Awards made possible by the generosity of Kean W. Spencer. These include the Myong Cha Son Haiku Award, the Rhina P. Espaillat Award, awards for Sonnet and Villanelle, the Donald Justice Poetry Prize, and the Wil Mills Chapbook Award. Scholarships to attend the Festival and other events are made possible through the Shirley Geok-Lin Lim Fellowship. The Center's activities are directed by the Poetry Center Director, who is appointed by the dean of the College of Arts and Humanities. An interdisciplinary faculty committee advises and supports the work of the Center. For more information, e-mail the Poetry Center (poetry@wcupa.edu), or call 610-436-2598.

WCU Community Mental Health Services (CMHS)
WCU Community Mental Health Services (CMHS) is affiliated with the West Chester University Doctor of Psychology (Psy.D.) Program. CMHS serves as a training center for graduate students in the Psy.D. Program in the Psychology Program. As a non-profit training facility, CMHS provides low-cost, high-quality psychotherapy and testing for members of the greater West Chester community, staff and faculty of WCU, as well as WCU students referred from the University Counseling Center. Services include psychotherapy for a wide range of psychological disorders and psychological assessments, including assessments for ADHD, learning disabilities, and other disorders that may require documentation to secure classroom accommodations. CMHS is located on the 8th Floor of Wayne Hall. For additional information or to schedule an appointment, please call 610-436-2510 or go to http://www.wcupa.edu/communityMentalHealth (http://www.wcupa.edu/communityMentalHealth/).

Dub-C Autism Program (D-CAP)
The Dub-C Autism Program (www.wcupa.edu/dcap (http://www.wcupa.edu/dcap/)) (D-CAP) supports part/full-time matriculated students on the autism spectrum at West Chester University. The program provides student supports across the areas of Executive Functioning, Independence, Social Competence, Self-Advocacy, and Career Preparation. As a member of D-CAP, students practice self-determination by setting their own goals. Skill development and goal achievement are addressed via individual and group meetings as well as social engagements. Training and support are offered for faculty, staff, and peers on campus, helping West Chester University build an inclusive and accepting campus community. In addition, D-CAP offers transition programs for high school students who intend on pursuing a 2- or 4-year degree. For additional information go to www.wcupa.edu/dcap (http://www.wcupa.edu/dcap/) or call 610-436-3168.

RAM Initiative
Real Achievement Matters (RAM) Initiative is an inclusive post-secondary educational experience for individuals (ages 18-24) with intellectual disabilities at West Chester University of PA. The two-year program provides students the opportunity to learn, live, and interact with all students, faculty, and staff across the university. Students take classes on either an audit or for-credit basis and have a non-traditional application/admissions process. RAM Initiative students are full-time students, have full privileges of the university, and are eligible for Pell Grants and Federal Financial Work Study programs (if financially eligible by filling out a FASFA form).
