At the end of the D.P.A. program, students will be able:

1. To lead and manage in public governance: the ability to appraise both the internal and external organizational environment, including the culture, politics, and institutional setting, and to use this knowledge to lead and manage personnel, programs, policy and outcomes

2. To participate in and contribute to the public policy process: the ability to understand the policy making process, including defining the problem, facilitating stakeholder involvement in agenda-setting, formulating, implementing, and evaluating policies and developing the expertise to effectively contribute to the policy-making process

3. To analyze, synthesize, think critically, solve problems, and make decisions: the ability to evaluate and synthesize information in order to propose solutions for public problems, think critically by demonstrating both procedural and conceptual knowledge, analyze data using a variety of research methods, and make evidence-based and ethical decisions regarding public policy and organizational outcomes

4. To articulate and apply a public service perspective: the ability to understand and apply public service values appropriate to public affairs, administration, and policy

5. To communicate and interact productively with a diverse and changing workforce and citizenry: the ability to respond thoughtfully to diversity both in the workplace and the citizenry and work productively in teams, including interacting effectively, demonstrating composure, professionalism, and respect for others, and sharing information, expertise, and resources

Mission of the Department and Programs

The mission of the Department of Public Policy and Administration, Doctor of Public Administration (D.P.A.) program, and the Master of Public Administration (M.P.A.) program at West Chester University is to provide high-quality, accessible public service education for a diverse group of emerging and existing public service leaders. This department prepares students to manage and lead across boundaries of the public, nonprofit, and private sectors. A community of accomplished scholars and practitioners instructs and mentors students in pursuing the public interest with accountability and transparency, serving professionally with competence, efficiency, and objectivity; acting ethically to uphold the public trust; and demonstrating respect, equity, and fairness in dealings with citizens and fellow public servants. The Department of Public Policy and Administration, with its affiliated Center for Social and Economic Policy Research, provides community access to faculty expertise, applied scholarship, and guidance in the practice of public affairs, administration, and policy.

Doctor of Public Administration Program

The Doctor of Public Administration degree at West Chester University is designed to meet regional employer and student needs by preparing individuals to advance the practice of public affairs and administration at the highest levels. The 45-credit-hour D.P.A. curriculum consists of a Doctoral Study course (3 credit hours), the Administrative Core, the Methods Sequence, Concentration Electives, and the Dissertation Seminar. The Administration Core (12 credit hours) focuses on the development of core competencies in the areas of strategic management; public sector economic and financial decision-making; and policy advocacy and leadership. Students are required to successfully complete a comprehensive exam upon completion of the Administrative Core. The Methods Sequence (9 credit hours) prepares D.P.A. students to engage in the highest levels of program and policy evaluation. The acquisition of methodological competence through the evaluation lens assists students in identifying the most effective and efficient solutions to the problems they encounter in practice. In consultation with an advisor, Concentration Electives (9 credit hours) are selected from among the Departments of Public Policy and Administration, Criminal Justice, Geography and Planning, and Graduate Social Work. Finally, students complete the Dissertation Seminar (12 credit hours), whereby students produce an applied dissertation project that demonstrates a high level of competency in applying the D.P.A. student learning outcomes.

At the end of the D.P.A. program, students will be able:

1. To lead and manage in public governance: the ability to appraise both the internal and external organizational environment, including the culture, politics, and institutional setting, and to use this knowledge to lead and manage personnel, programs, policy and outcomes

2. To participate in and contribute to the public policy process: the ability to understand the policy making process, including defining the problem, facilitating stakeholder involvement in agenda-setting, formulating, implementing, and evaluating policies and developing the expertise to effectively contribute to the policy-making process

Admissions

All applicants to one of West Chester University’s graduate programs will be held to the graduate admissions requirements (http://catalog.wcupa.edu/general-information/admissions-enrollment/graduate-admissions/). When applicable, additional requirements for admission into specific department program(s) may be listed below.

Admission Requirements for the D.P.A. Degree

D.P.A. Admissions Committee will require/consider the following data points in making an admissions recommendation:

- Master’s degree, from a regionally accredited college or university. Students whose master’s degrees are not in public administration, public affairs, policy analysis, political science, public health or nonprofit management or a related field, and or do not have relevant work experience may be required to complete additional coursework in public administration.
- GRE Requirement: Needed for all individuals with a master’s GPA of lower than 3.85.
- Three letters of recommendation (2 letters of recommendation from faculty in the student’s masters program and 1 letter from an employer)
- Supplemental Application Questions
- Sample of professional writing
- Resume or vita

Admission Requirements for the M.P.A. Degree

Students should submit the following materials to The Graduate School:

- Official academic transcript(s) from all colleges and universities attended at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, demonstrating the achievement of an undergraduate GPA of 3.00 (Students who do not meet this requirement may be considered for provisional status.)
- Completed graduate application, including a statement of how the M.P.A. furthers the individual's professional goals
- Two letters of reference from current or former supervisors who can attest to the applicant's management potential
- Resume

Policies

All graduate students are held to the academic policies and procedures (http://catalog.wcupa.edu/graduate/academic-policies-procedures/) outlined in the graduate catalog. Students are encouraged to review departmental handbooks for program tips, suggested course sequences, and explanations of procedures. When applicable, additional policies for specific department programs may be listed below.

D.P.A. Comprehensive Exam Requirements

After completing the administration core and methods sequence, students are required to sit for a comprehensive examination. Students will be required to successfully pass the comprehensive exam before enrolling in DPA 803. This exam will cover content from both the administration core and methods sequence. An oral exam may be required of students with noted deficiencies in their exam. Students not passing the comprehensive exam on the first try will be permitted only one additional attempt. Students who do not pass the comprehensive exam after two attempts will not be able to continue on in the D.P.A. program.

DPA 705. Research Design for Program and Policy Evaluation. 3 Credits.
This course covers proper design of empirical research. While research design is discussed broadly, an emphasis is placed on common quantitative and qualitative designs used by public sector practitioners. Topics covered in the course include issues related to proper measurement, sampling, and data collection. Students will learn to track program and policy outcomes and establish causation.
Distance education offering may be available.

DPA 706. Quantitative Methods of Program and Policy Evaluation. 3 Credits.
This course introduces statistical theories and techniques commonly used by public sector managers in policy analysis and program evaluation. Topics include probability theory, statistical inference, and advanced statistical techniques such as multivariate regression, regression with limited dependent variables, and time-series analysis.
Pre / Co requisites: DPA 706 requires a prerequisite of DPA 705.
Distance education offering may be available.

DPA 707. Qualitative Methods of Program and Policy Evaluation. 3 Credits.
This course prepares students to properly design and implement qualitative research techniques for policy analysis and program evaluation. Topics include case studies, interviewing, focus groups, participant observations, ethnography, and document analysis.
Pre / Co requisites: DPA 707 requires a prerequisite of DPA 705.
Distance education offering may be available.

DPA 801. Dissertation Seminar I: Research Questions and Framing the Literature. 3 Credits.
The DPA Dissertation Seminar is a series of four courses whereby students demonstrate mastery of required competencies through the completion of a final culminating independent applied research project. This is the first in a series of four courses designed to guide and support students in the identification of research questions and tracing the relevant literature.
Distance education offering may be available.
Typically offered in Fall, Spring & Summer.

DPA 802. Dissertation Seminar II: Data and Measurements. 3 Credits.
The DPA Dissertation Seminar is a series of four courses whereby students demonstrate mastery of required competencies through the completion of a final culminating independent applied research project. This is the second in a series of four courses designed to guide and support students in the identification and collection of data and the formulation of appropriation measurement techniques.
Distance education offering may be available.
Typically offered in Fall, Spring & Summer.

DPA 803. Dissertation Seminar III: Quantitative and Qualitative Analysis. 3 Credits.
The DPA Dissertation Seminar is a series of four courses whereby students demonstrate mastery of required competencies through the completion of a final culminating independent applied research project. This is the third in a series of four courses designed to guide and support students in the evaluation of data using both quantitative and qualitative methods.
Distance education offering may be available.
Typically offered in Fall, Spring & Summer.

DPA 804. Dissertation Seminar IV: Findings and Recommendations. 3 Credits.
The DPA Dissertation Seminar is a series of four courses whereby students demonstrate mastery of required competencies through the completion of a final culminating independent applied research project. This is the fourth in a series of four courses designed to guide and support students in completing the dissertation project by formulating findings and recommendations.
Distance education offering may be available.
Typically offered in Fall, Spring & Summer.
