Academic Advising

West Chester University embraces the concept that effective academic advising is a collaborative teaching and learning process between the student and the faculty advisor. The University believes that effective advising should assist students in achieving their academic, professional, and personal goals. The University community – students, faculty, and staff – shares the responsibility for student success. Faculty advisors will strive to provide accurate, timely, and current information, thus establishing the framework around which students will construct their academic program of study. Students, in turn, must take responsibility for their educational and career goals by assuming an active role in working towards their degree and being aware of and understanding policies and requirements necessary for graduation. The University is responsible for providing a supportive environment where students can receive high quality academic advising and also be referred to other campus resources that will provide opportunities and assistance to help students succeed.

In order to maintain progress towards their goals, all students must meet with their advisors at least once per semester, as well as consult with department and university documents such as advising sheets and Degree Progress Reports. Students can find additional advising support information on the university's advising website (<http://wcupa.edu/academicsAdvising/>).

Advisor assignments are made by the academic department of the student's program of study. Students who are admitted to the University as "undeclared" are assigned an advisor through Exploratory Studies (222 Lawrence Center, 610-436-3505). Students may find the name of their academic advisor on their myWCU portal page (<http://my.wcupa.edu/>).

Students who choose to pursue an academic minor will also be assigned an advisor in the minor. The minor advisor will assist the student in understanding the requirements of that particular program.

Learning Assistance and Resource Center

The Learning Assistance and Resource Center (LARC) provides academic support services to help students become independent, active learners who achieve academic success. The LARC offers tutoring services in most 100- and 200-level general education courses, such as mathematics, natural sciences, social sciences, languages, and introductory business. Supplemental Instruction (SI) tutoring is also available for high-risk courses. Interested students register on a first-come, first-served basis and are assigned tutors depending on availability. Additionally, the LARC offers success coaching that guides students toward academic and personal success at WCU. Success coaches meet one-on-one with students and facilitate Academic Success Workshops (ASW's) that offer skill-building in the areas of time management, test preparation, note taking, self care, and more. The LARC website, www.wcupa.edu/larc (<http://www.wcupa.edu/larc/>), includes information on available services, a list of courses being tutored, and links to helpful resources. Additional services, such as online tutoring through Smarthinking and the Student Alert Program are also available. Information regarding these programs can be found on the LARC website.

The LARC provides opportunities for paid practical experience for undergraduate and graduate students and requires participation in a comprehensive training program for new tutors and success coaches, including seminars, workshops, online training, individualized projects, and peer observation. Opportunities for practicums or internships are available. Tutors employed by the LARC acquire the knowledge and experience necessary to meet the requirements for certification by the College Reading and Learning Association. The LARC is open Monday - Thursday from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m., Friday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., and Sunday from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. For more information call 610-436-2535, e-mail larc@wcupa.edu, see the website at www.wcupa.edu/larc (<http://www.wcupa.edu/larc/>), or visit 224 Lawrence Center.
