Programs of Study

The Department of Languages and Cultures offers a degree program that leads to the Bachelor of Arts in Languages and Cultures, with concentrations in French, German, Russian, and Spanish. The degree can be taken with or without K-12 Pennsylvania teaching certification. The degree-granting program includes a common core of 6 credits in English for all students, a required Immersion Experience, and 30 credits of course work in the target language. Additionally, students will be able to double major and choose from one or more minors in French, German, Italian, Latin, Russian, and/or Spanish.

- Bachelor of Arts in Languages and Cultures (BALC), with a concentration in: French, German, Russian, or Spanish
- Bachelor of Arts in Languages and Cultures with Elective Certification with a concentration in: French, German, Russian, or Spanish

The Instructional I Certificate in a language qualifies the holder to teach their major language in the public schools (kindergarten through 12th grade) of Pennsylvania.

The Study Abroad Program and Immersion Experiences

Majors and minors in languages are strongly encouraged to study abroad for immersion experiences. If study abroad for an entire year is not feasible, students should plan to study for a semester or, at least, one summer. The department advises students in cooperation with the Global Engagement Office and cooperates with other PASSHE schools in affording students study abroad venues. (In the event that a language major is unable to complete the immersion experience, the department will make other options available.)

Students in the department can choose from a broad range of study abroad options in all of the languages covered by the department (whether at the major or the minor level), in either WCU faculty-led programs and collaborations with study abroad organizations from all over the world. Please contact the Global Engagement Office (https://www.wcupa.edu/international/) for approved programs of study. The department’s webpage contains information and updates on our study abroad programs.

When applicable, additional policies for specific department programs may be listed below.

Language Placement
Second Language Placement Examination
All students who are pursuing a Bachelor of Arts (BA) degree or who enter WCU as an Exploratory Studies (undeclared) student are required to complete the Second Language Placement Examination. Depending on their answers on this section, they will be placed by means of an online test (if there is an online test available for their language), or they will be contacted by the Department of Languages and Cultures to be placed (if there is no online test available for their language). The online test is available for these languages: Chinese, French, German, Russian, and Spanish. For the following languages, students will be contacted by the Department of Languages and Cultures: American Sign Language, Arabic, Biblical Hebrew, Classical Greek, Italian, Japanese, Latin, and Portuguese. Their score on the online test will be used by the Department of Languages and Cultures as one of several variables to determine their language placement. Based on other factors (years of language study in high school, at-home use of the language, time since the language was last taken, etc.), their final placement may be different from the equivalence indicated by their online test score. Instructions on taking the online Second Language Placement Examination can be found in the WCU Enrollment Portal on myWCU.

If students have questions about the Second Language Placement Exam, they can e-mail the Languages and Cultures Department at mpersch@wcupa.edu.

Additional Course Options for the Minor in Chinese
Students who have tested into the language at a higher level than CHI 101 and need credit beyond CHI 302 in order to complete the minimum minor requirements should consider the topics courses LAN 420/LIN 411. Those topics offered in the Chinese language can be applied to the requirements of the minor.

Additional Course Options for the Minor in Japanese
Students who have tested into the language at a higher level than JPN 101 and need credit beyond JPN 302 in order to complete the minimum minor requirements should consider the topics courses LAN 420/LIN 411. Those topics offered in the Japanese language can be applied to the requirements of the minor.

Approval for Student Teaching and Field Placements
Approval for Student Teaching
Candidates must apply through the Office of Clinical Experiences and Candidate Services for approval for student teaching placements. All candidates must meet the following criteria in order to student teach:

• Achieved Teacher Candidacy
  • Have earned final passing grades in all professional preparation requirements as indicated in the degree guidance sheet,
  • Have earned the required credits per program (see program guidance sheet) prior to the student teaching experience, including all professional educational courses and all specialized preparation courses with necessary grade prerequisites, with a cumulative GPA of 2.8 or above.

• Completed the following forms:
  • Student teaching application (must be submitted within one full year prior to the academic semester in which student teaching is to be scheduled)
  • PA Child Abuse History Certification
  • Criminal Record Check-PA State Police
  • FBI Background Fingerprinting Check
  • TB testing

• Registered for student teaching as they would for any other University courses.

• Attended a student teaching pre-registration meeting (The Office of Clinical Experiences and Candidate Services will notify students of preregistration meetings)

• See department webpage and/or handbook for specific programmatic requirements.

1 Student teachers will apply for updated clearances a year prior to student teaching. The Office of Clinical Experiences and Candidate Services will notify you when you should apply for clearances.

Field Placement in Schools
All field placements, including student teaching, are arranged by the Office of Clinical Experiences and Candidate Services with collaboration from the Field Coordinator. Students are not to solicit placements. While students’ needs are considered in assigning placements, no particular placement can be guaranteed. All placements are within one hour of the university. Transportation to and from field placements and student teaching is the responsibility of the individual student.

LNC

LNC 100. Discover the World on Film. 3 Credits.
Did you ever want to travel the world? In this course you will cross cultural and linguistic borders through film. We will engage diverse national films that represent varied cultural, historical, and philosophical traditions while asking what it means to be human in the contemporary world. Knowledge of languages other than English is not required.
Gen Ed Attribute: Humanities Distributive Requirement.
Distance education offering may be available.
Typically offered in Fall & Spring.

LNC 105. Global Science Fiction. 3 Credits.
How do people relate to one another in a constantly changing universe? Students will engage a broad range of global science fiction to reflect on some of the most pressing ethical questions of the modern world. Topics may include how individuals and communities confront mad scientists, alien races, surveillance technologies, and post-apocalyptic landscapes, while exploring what it means to be human. All materials in English translation.
Gen Ed Attribute: Humanities Distributive Requirement, Writing Emphasis.
Distance education offering may be available.
Typically offered in Fall, Spring & Summer.
LNC 106. Global Fantasy Fiction. 3 Credits.
In this introductory class, students engage with a broad range of global fantasy fiction and film. In a technology-saturated world, humans often crave a sense of wonder and seek out hope in the unexplainable. They imagine fantasy worlds to satisfy this need, stretch their imagination, and expand their range of expression. Topics may include epic struggles between right and wrong, schools for magic, and a wide range of fantastic creatures. At the same time, students will connect these stories back to reality to explore the role of fantasy in describing complex emotions and troublesome events. All materials available in English.
Typically offered in Fall & Spring.

LNC 110. Global Human Rights in Cultural Production. 3 Credits.
This course will introduce students to the concept of Human Rights, familiarize students with the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, and examine case studies of Human Rights problems from around the world. In the first half of this course, students will learn about the development of the concept of human rights through an examination of its theoretical foundations, considering the tension between universality and relativity posed by the concept of universal human rights, and problematizing what this “universalization” means for societies that perhaps have other, more pressing needs/priorities not included in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. In the second half of this course, students will focus on examining a variety of human rights cases as represented in multiple cultural mediums (including films, a poem, a novel, a diary, and documentaries) and practice analyzing these cases to pinpoint the various stakeholders and their interests in the issue at hand. In class, students will learn tactical mapping and the case study method, which will be brought into class discussions throughout the second half of the course as they consider each human rights case study. Lastly, students will practice imagining themselves within these situations and think critically about the different choices of action they would have as an actor in the issue at hand. Students will practice ethical reasoning in examining how best to act as they imagine themselves navigating the complex field of these human rights questions.
Gen Ed Attribute: Ethics Requirement, Humanities Distributive Requirement.
Typically offered in Spring.

LNC 368. Comparative Cultural Studies. 3 Credits.
